

What To Do With That Old Box of Memorabilia?

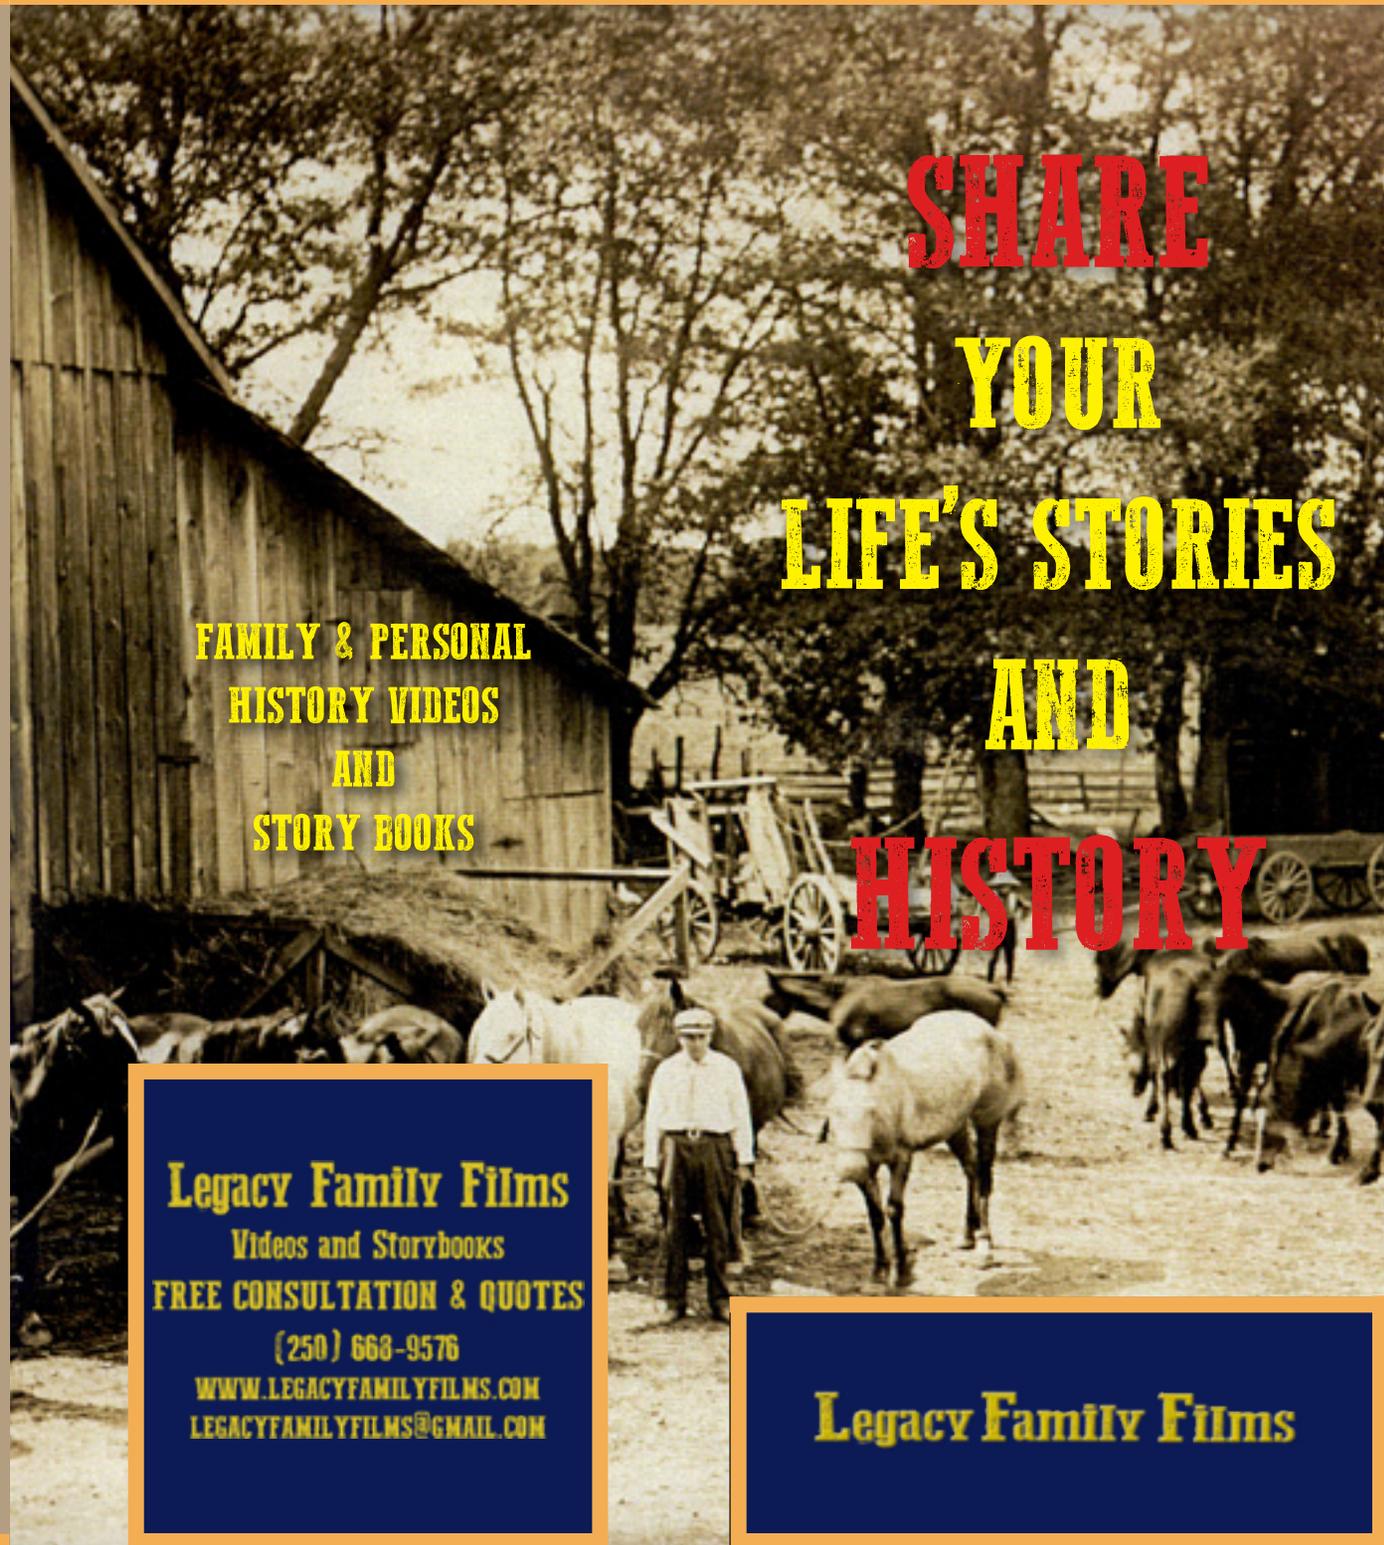

Do you have old, fragile photographs, films, slides, and mementos but don't know what to do with them? Maybe you have wanted to write your stories and life adventures in a book or create a nice tree of your family history, but don't have the skills or time to share your legacy with your children and loved ones?

Will Your Family Remember The Stories Of Your Parents?

Grandparents are unique and special people who would love to share the history of their joys, pains, successes, and failure with their families. They have wonderful lessons that they can pass on to their children. Don't wait to learn from them before they're gone and it is too late.

How Do You Keep Family Legacies Alive?

Life is short and protecting the history of the memories of those that are passed on can be challenging. Their histories can be respected and honored by your family who will forever cherish them, if you take the appropriate steps. Thus, how will you pass those stories on to future generations, if not yourself?

Let The Power Of Video Come To The Rescue!

Feel Reassured By Giving A Lifetime Gift! A Documentary Video With Your Stories and Photos!

Each video will contain your historical family photos, slides, films, and momentums, along with narration and your favorite background music. Videos can also be posted online to share with your family around the world!

Tell Your Stories With Simple and Fun Interviews

In the comfort of your home, I will ask you a set of basic questions that will help bring back memories. With my cameras, we will record your life stories and history that you will love sharing with your family.

You will be so excited to receive your family history video that you will be proud to show to your children, grandchildren, and friends. It's an opportunity to share your history that your family will always treasure.

Keep Your Legacy Alive With Treasured Storybooks

Legacy Family Films is also proud to offer the service of creating professionally printed and bound storybooks for your library, along with posters and postcards.

Each storybook, with beautiful design and high definition scans of your photos, can be replicated at an affordable price for each member of your family.

Meet Your Personal Historian

Legacy Family Films historian Dr. Guy Prouty loves to create family histories and I use the latest high definition digital video equipment to capture your stories and wisdom so that you may pass them on to your family and future generations. I am a calm and skilled filmmaker and interviewer, and it is my job to help you make your unique story and history come alive. I guarantee that you will be pleased with your Legacy Family Film Video and Storybook!
